

Ethics Policy

Responsibility to society and profession

Seek solutions that are compatible with the principles of sustainable development.

At all times uphold the dignity, standing and reputation of our profession.

Competence

Maintain knowledge and skills at levels consistent with developments in technology, legislation and management, and apply due skill, care and diligence in the services rendered to our clients.

Refrain from performing any services unless competent to perform them.

Integrity

Act at all times in the legitimate interests of our clients and perform professional services with integrity and faithfulness.

We will be open in our businesses practices and discharge our duties professionally. We will not disclosure privileged, sensitive or commercial information without specific agreement to do so, unless instructed to do so by the court of law or disclosure would be in the public interest.

Impartiality

Be impartial in the provision of professional advice, judgment or decision.

Inform the client of any potential conflict of interest that might arise in the performance of the commission.

Not accept remuneration which prejudices independent judgment.

Fairness to others

Promote the concept of "selection by ability".

Neither carelessly nor intentionally do anything to falsely injure the reputation or business of others.

Neither directly nor indirectly attempt to take the place of another consulting engineer who is already appointed for a specific work.

In the event of being asked to review the work of another, behave in accordance with appropriate professional conduct and courtesy.

Corruption

Neither offer nor accept remuneration of any kind which in perception or in effect either a) seeks to influence the process of selection or compensation of firms or their clients or b) seeks to affect impartial judgment.

Cooperate fully with any legitimately constituted investigative body which make inquiry into the administration of any contract for services or implementation.
